A story usually begins by introducing a character and the problem he or she has. The steps the character takes to solve the problem are the events of a story. A story ends with the solution to the problem. The problem, events, and solution make up the plot of a story.

Read the passage and each question. Underline the answer in the passage and then write the answer.

A box came in the mail for Denisha, but it had no return address. When Denisha opened the box, she found a blue jacket and matching pants. She tried on the pants and jacket. They fit perfectly, and blue was Denisha's favorite color. She wanted to thank the sender. She asked her mother and sister if they had mailed the package, but they both said no. Denisha looked again at the outside of the box, and then she smiled. "I figured it out! The stamp says that the box was mailed from Detroit. Grandma lives there. She must have sent it."

As I read, I will pay attention to end punctuation in each sentence.

9 Todd's mother had a problem. "I've lost my favorite
 20 white scarf," she said. Todd wanted to help her find it.
 29 He searched under tables and behind chairs. He looked 40 in closets and under the beds. He didn't see the scarf
 41 anywhere.
 49 Todd wasn't worried, however. He was an experienced 60 detective. He had solved many cases in the past. Once he 71 found his father's lost baseball cap behind an old paint can
 81 in the garage. Another time he found his mother's keys
 92 among the leaves of a houseplant. In fact Todd had solved
 103 every case he had ever worked on. He thought he could 107 complete this assignment, too.
 116 Todd took out his handy detective notepad and pen.
 125 He asked his mother several questions, as any good detective would. 127
